Hi all,

I just wanted to let you know that the agenda for this coming Monday's City Council meeting is now posted online, you can view the entire agenda here, and the resolution about HP will NOT be part of the meeting. It remains to be seen whether it will surface at a future meeting, but for the meeting just in front of us, we now know that no City Councilor has sponsored this resolution. Thank you.

Best,

Neal

Hi Rob,

Unfortunately, people are not allowed to sign up for Public Comment until the agenda for the meeting has been finalized. All agenda items are due in to the Clerk's Office by 3 pm on Thursday, and then the Clerk releases the agenda online by Thursday evening (usually between 5 – 5:30 pm).

We won't know what the Agenda item number will be until the agenda has been put together by the clerk's office. Just to take some of the guesswork out of this – since I know exactly where to look – I'll be scouring the agenda once it's released on Thursday night and as soon as I see which item this ends up being, I'll send you all an email with that information. I hope this is helpful.

Best,

Neal

Thank you Neal. A couple of questions.

1. Can people begin registering for public comment now?
2. The online registration reforms asks for a policy # (not the correct term). Can you tell us what that number is for the "boycott" issue?

Thanks.

Rob

Hi Jeremy, Robert, and Bob,

Happy Tuesday to you all, and my apologies for the delay in following up on your recent meeting with Councilor Simmons – I just wanted to make certain the information I wanted to relay would actually be available online.

People who wish to sign up for Public Comment can do so by calling the City Council Office on Friday between 9 am – 12 pm (at 617.349.4280), they can call the City Council Office the Monday of the meeting between 9 am – 3 pm, or they can sign up online via this link:
http://www.cambridgema.gov/Departments/citycouncil/publiccommentsignupform Public Comment is the very first item on the agenda for any Council meeting, and it starts at 5:30 pm. People have up to 3 minutes to speak to any item on the agenda. We will know what the agenda for next Monday's Council meeting will be by this Thursday around 5:30 pm, and it will be posted online at this link.

I hope this information is helpful to you, and please feel free to ask me any additional questions if the need arises. Thank you.

Best,

Neal
